PRICE THREE CENTS

SIX INJURED, 2 SERIOUSLY, IN ACCIDENT

Six persons were injured Friday night at 10:30 o'clock when two cars collided near the Dicks dam intersection of the Hampton-New Chester road.

Most seriously injured was John H. Bly, New Oxford R. 1, driver of one of the cars, who suffered internal injuries, and Miss Norma Stoner, of Hanover, who suffered multiple severe lacerations of the face. Both are patients at the Hanover hospital.

State police, who investigated, said the accident occurred when a car owned by Dewel P. Taylor, Stewartstown, and driven by Miss Gladys Stover, 18, Hanover, failed to remain on its half of the highway and smashed into the Bly car. Damage totaled $1,500, with both cars demolished.

Others Hurt

Also injured in the crash were Miss Stover, who suffered minor face lacerations but was admitted to the Hanover hospital; Yvonne Souliard, 16, Hanover, shock, contusions of the head and lacerations of the face; Miss Nancy Fry, 16, York, lacerations of the face and left leg and Taylor, a laceration of the forehead.

All of those injured, except Bly, were occupants of the Taylor car. Dr. Wilbur H. Miller, New Oxford, treated the group at the scene and then treated the Misses Fry and Souliard later at his office. Miss Stover and Miss Stoner were sent to the Hanover hospital in the car of a passing motorist and Bly was removed to the hospital in the Hanover ambulance.

State police are continuing their investigation.

ANNUAL RURAL LIFE MEETING HERE SEPT. 5-7

Saturday, August 30, was announced today as the closing date for registrations for the 11th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Rural Life Association to be held at the local Lutheran theological seminary September 5, 6, and 7. Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, of the seminary, announced today.

Several hundred leaders of rural organizations from throughout the state are scheduled to attend the sessions, which Doctor Hoover added, should be of particular interest to persons in Gettysburg.

The organization is made up of representatives from such organizations as the Grange, the Society of Farm Women, the Congress of Parent-Teachers Associations, State Department of Public Instruction, Pennsylvania State College in addition to individuals interested.

Announce Speakers

"Better Living in Rural Homes and Communities" is the theme for this year's conference. Dr. Samuel Blizard, of the department of rural sociology of State College will speak at the opening session, September 5. His topic will be "What We Want in Rural Living."

Other speakers scheduled for the conference will be Dr. William G. Mather, Robert McCall, Dr. H. S. Brunner and Dr. M. E. John, all of Pennsylvania State College and Doctor Hoover.

Representatives from 12 state organizations, including Edmund W. Thomas, president of the First National Bank here, for the Pennsylvania Bankers Association, will speak at the morning session September 6.

Other Reports

Others who will report will be Mrs. Gross for the Congress of Parent Teachers Associations; Fumam Gyger, Jr., Kimberton, the state Grange; Arthur M. Dewes, Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, Philadelphia, for health organizations; Helen McManus, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Welfare conference, Harrisburg, for Welfare organizations; R. N. Benjamin, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania Farm Bureau Cooperatives, for farmers cooperatives; Ralph Blaney, State College, for the state agricultural extension service; L. R. Moyer, Warrior's Mark, for Vocational Agriculture teachers; Ralph C. Swan, superintendent of the Perry County schools for Public school education association; the Rev. Dr. Ivan Gould, Harrisburg, for the state council of churches; Dice Statler, Chambersburg for the state Rural youth organization and Mrs. Edwards for the Society of Farm Women. Theodore C. Scheffe, Hartleton, president of the association will preside.

SELL PROPERTY

Francis L. Miller and Rosalie C. Miller, Gettysburg R. 3, have sold their semi-bungalow at Grandview Terrace to John H. Gruner and Catherine B. Greiner, Gettysburg R. 5. Possession will be given August 30. The sale was made through John C. Breara.

Legionnaires To Attend Convention

Wilbur A. Geiselman, district deputy commander of the American Legion, and Alexis Chritzman, both of Gettysburg, will leave here Wednesday morning for New York city, where they will attend the Legion's national convention.

Mr. Geiselman and Mr. Chritzman were elected delegate and alternate respectively, to represent the 22nd district, Department of Pennsylvania, at the national convention, at the state gathering held recently in Pittsburgh.

They will go by train from Harrisburg, and will stay at the Roosevelt hotel in New York city, headquarters of the Pennsylvania delegates.

PLAN WEEK DAY DEPARTMENT OF C.E. COUNCIL

A regional meeting of the executive committee of the Adams County Council of Christian Education was held Friday evening at the YWCA building with R. R. Starner, Benderville, the president, presiding.

It was decided a new department, the Week Day Religious Education department, will be created in the county. A committee composed of Harry E. Bair, Hanover, chairman; D. M. Hoffman and the Rev. Nevin Prantz, both of Arendtsville, was appointed by the president to select a superintendent for the department.

The same committee will also secure someone to serve as Missionary and Temperance superintendent, previously filled by the Rev. G. W. Harrison, Benderville, who recently moved from the county to another pastorate.

Convention Delegate

The Rev. Mr. Frantz was appointed to represent the council at the 85th annual State Sunday School convention to be held in the Elm Park Methodist church, Scranton, October 7 to 10. Other delegates from the districts are planning to attend the convention.

It was revealed several districts in the county are already making plans for their fall rallies which will be held during October and November.

Announcement was made that the Young People's Division, Nettie Raf- (Please turn to Page 2)

PRICE OF EGGS INCREASES ONE CENT ON MART

The price of eggs advanced one cent on the Farmers' Market today, large whites selling for 66 cents a dozen. Some medium browns were 55 cents a dozen and pullet eggs sold for 45 cents. The price of chickens remained unchanged, at 60 cents a pound.

Most fruit and produce were plentiful today. The larger supplies of roasting eggs brought the price down to 30 and 35 cents a dozen, with small ears selling for as low as 20 cents a dozen. Tomatoes ran from 15 to 30 cents a quart box, depending largely on size and quality.

Green and yellow beans were ten cents a quart box and beet ten cents a bunch. One vendor sold the latter at 50 cents a peck. Shelled lima beans brought 35 cents a pint and shelled bunch beans were 20 cents a pint.

Elderberries Available

Large green peppers were five cents each; lettuce ten cents a quart box; parsley five cents a bunch; cabbage, six cents a pound; watercress ten cents a box and pumpkins anywhere from ten to 25 cents each, depending on size.

There were elderberries on the market today, selling for ten and 15 cents a quart box. Potatoes brought ten and 15 cents a quart, 20 cents a quarter peck and 40 cents a half peck.

Apples, mostly Summer Rambo, were sold for 15 cents a quart or 25 cents a quarter peck, and $2.50 a bushel. Peaches, South Haven, were 20 and 25 cents a quart box and 35 cents a 2-quart measure.

Butter Is 70 Cents

Butter was 70 cents a pound on the market today, unchanged in recent weeks. Sweet cream was 35 cents a pint, potato salad, 20 cents a pint and cottage cheese 20 cents a pint. Vinegar was 70 cents a gallon, including bottle deposit.

Flowers were plentiful in a wide range of varieties and prices. Some gladioli sold for $1 a dozen, others for 50 cents a bunch. Pom pon dahlias were 15 cents each.

CODE VIOLATOR

Earl H. Watson, York, has been charged with failing to stop at a stop-sign on the Gettysburg Battlefield in an information laid by Park Warden T. R. Treher, of the Gettysburg National Park, before U. S. Commissioner Daniel E. Teeter, Gettysburg. He will be given a hearing in September.

Little "Miss Unknown" Receives Much Attention At Warner Hospital Where She Was Taken After Being Abandoned In Parked Auto On Friday

While police continue their attempts to learn the identity of the mother or father of the month-old infant found at 7 o'clock Friday morning in a parked automobile on West Broadway, little "Miss Unknown" coos and wriggles her small toes in a bassinet at the Warner hospital, blissfully unconscious of the furor her mysterious abandonment has created.

"It's the cutest thing," nurses in the maternity ward at the hospital declare, and others who have seen the baby join with them.

"Miss Unknown" attained the lime-light when Mrs. Abbie Baker, employed at the Dickson home on West Broadway, heard the baby crying in the automobile of Attorney Donald M. Swope, Friday morning, while on her way to work. Mr. Swope's car was parked in front of his home.

Well but Hungry

Dr. C. H. Johnson made arrangements for her admission to the hospital, where it was found that the only thing wrong with the baby was her hunger.

"I have never seen a hungrier baby," a nurse declared.

Mr. Swope parked his car about midnight and it was 7 o'clock when the baby was discovered, well-dressed and wrapped in a blanket, lying on the front seat of his car, and crying lustily.

"I want my bottle," the wee black-haired and blue-eyed one would have said had she been able to talk. Not one bottle, but several, at regularly spaced intervals, was what she got after arrival at the hospital, until the pangs of hunger were relieved.

The discovery of the infant was reported to borough police, and an investigation begun. The clothing, of good quality, police said, and apparently not used before, was checked, but there were no identifying marks or store labels. Police checked stores selling baby clothing, but said they had nothing to report.

In Isolation Ward

At the hospital, this foundling is getting more attention than most ordinary babies. She has been placed in a separate room, in what is known as the isolation ward, not because there is anything wrong with her, but because this is the practice with all babies brought in to the hospital.

The nurses at the hospital are all "just crazy" about her, it develops.

"Oh, Mr. Doud, can't we keep her?" One of the nurses asked Walter R. Doud, hospital administrator.

"Miss Unknown" hasn't acquired a name, but each nurse has her own pet appellation for the wee stranger.

"She's the most popular person in the hospital," a nurse said. "We run in to see her every chance we get when we are not busy."

Regular Feeding

The baby gets her feeding every four hours, and is behaving just as any month-old child in normal health would behave, according to the nurses.

One of the laboratory employes has furnished a fluffy pink cover for the bassinet, other nurses have helped decorate it, and today the nurses are getting some little "nights" for the baby.

Meanwhile, hospital and other authorities say they do not know how long the baby will be kept at the hospital, or what disposition may finally be made if the parents are not located.

A shower of gifts may be forthcoming today from persons who read the account of the finding of the baby in Friday's Gettysburg Times. Several persons were reported to be getting gifts ready for the infant.

Fire Company Uniforms Arrive

The new uniforms for members of the Gettysburg Fire company who do not have them, have arrived, and will be distributed Monday night at the engine house, Raymond Menges, secretary, said today.

Members without uniforms are requested to meet at the engine house so all will have uniforms for the Adams county convention parade at Littlestown Labor Day.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Shaffer, Biglerville R. 1, announce the birth of a son, Clair Daniel, at their home this morning.

A daughter was born at the Hanover hospital Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Miller, 360 North street, McSherrystown.

ELECTED AS TEACHER

Mrs. Lorna B. Hentz, Shippensburg, who formerly taught in East Berlin and Gettysburg, has been elected to the teaching staff of the Hanover public schools.

Mrs. Martha Hayne, nurse at the Annie M. Warner hospital, is shown holding the unidentified, abandoned baby, found early Friday morning in the parked automobile of Attorney Donald M. Swope, West Broadway. Now in the new Musselman annex isolation ward at the hospital, the month-old baby, well-fed and well-cared for, is reported in good health. Police are seeking to learn her identity and her parents. Photo by Lane Studio

LOCAL GRAD TO SPEAK MONDAY

Dr. Benton Peery, a graduate of the Lutheran Theological seminary, will speak on Japan at a meeting Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the social rooms of Christ Lutheran church. The address is being sponsored by the Women's Missionary society of the church.

Dr. Peery was born in Japan and is a son of the Rev. Dr. R. B. Peery, the first Lutheran missionary to Japan. During the war Dr. Peery served as a chaplain with the navy in Japan. Prior to that he was pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, Philadelphia. He is a graduate of Midland college.

Since his release from the armed forces he has been presenting the cause of Japan before Lutheran congregations under the sponsorship of the Foreign Mission Board. Next week he will serve as a member of the faculty at Camp Nawaka, Lutheran training camp near Brysonia.

All women of the church and anyone interested is invited to attend the meeting Monday.

Those in charge of arrangements include Mrs. R. S. Saby, chairman, Mrs. Edgar Crouse, Mrs. Ralph D. Heim, Mrs. Dwight F. Putman and Mrs. Elsie Singmaster Lewars.

Miss Betty Gleason, Johnstown, is a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Philip M. Jones, West Broadway.

Troop A, 104th Cavalry, Pennsylvania National Guard

This is the seventeenth of a series of brief biographical sketches of the officers and enlisted personnel of Gettysburg's Troop A, 104th Cavalry, Pennsylvania National Guard. This feature is presented as a tribute to the men who have voluntarily offered their services, in peacetime to their country through the Pennsylvania National Guard.

Private Brame, 22, 4 Franklin street, was not yet out of high school when he was called to service in May 1943, starting his army career at New Cumberland.

He was sent to Fort Custer, Mich. as a military police escort guard handling prisoners of war. He was assigned to a camp housing 3,000 Italian prisoners at Monticello, Ark., and then brought back to Fort Custer before being shipped to Camp Miles Standish for transportation overseas. He arrived in Liverpool, England, in 1944, after ten months service in the U. S.

He served for 21 months overseas first in England as M. P. attached to the first army and later in France. He entered France seven days after D-Day. His job through Normandy and the rest of France was in town and traffic control, handling prisoners and the like.

He served in Belgium and was in the middle of the Battle of the Bulge, still as an M. P. Attached

AG TEACHERS PLAN SCHOOL

Through the cooperation of the South Penn Power company, a two-day school for agricultural instructors of Adams and Franklin counties will be held in the Washington township school, Rouzerville, next Thursday and Friday, Richard C. Lighter, vocational education advisor for the two counties, announced today. Twenty-eight instructors will attend, he said.

The Thursday sessions will open at 9 a. m. with rural electric engineers of the South Penn company acting as instructors on wire splices, proper size and kind of wire for various uses, switches, etc. On Friday the "ag" men will go to a farm near Waynesboro which has many types of electrical farm appliances, and will be given opportunity to see and use them. Farm electrical safety will be stressed, and the "ag" men shown unsafe and dangerous types of wiring and connections.

ISSUE INVITATIONS

Invitations have been issued for the reception of Miss Anna Mae Hemler and Robert Saylor, Gettysburg, who will be married Saturday, August 30, in the rectory of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church. The reception will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hemler, Grandview Terrace.

PFC. CHARLES ARTHUR BRAME, JR.

to the 28th Division he went into Germany with the big push and wound up at Mannheim, Germany, with the Seventh army. For a time he was in charge of a stockade for American prisoners. Later transferred to the 29th division, he came home from Bremerhaven, Germany and was discharged July 16, 1946. He wears the ETO ribbon with five battle stars, good conduct and victory ribbons.

Decides To Pay Wife, Is Released

Clayton King, Cumberland township, was released from the county jail Friday afternoon after deciding it would be best to follow the court's order to pay $100 a month for the support of his wife.

King was removed to the jail after the support order was granted in court, when he refused to sign a bond to pay the order and could not make up his mind immediately whether he wanted to go to jail or pay the support.

SCHOOL BOARDS ASKED TO HELP PAY SECRETARY

Letters went out from the office of the county superintendent of schools today, under the signature of J. Floyd Slaybaugh, superintendent, to 17 school districts in Adams county renewing a request for contributions from these districts for funds with which to help defray the salary of the secretary in the county office in the court house. Other districts have already sent in their contributions.

"This is our second request to you for assistance in maintaining a secretary in the county office," the letters said. "Many districts responded promptly to our first request, but without your support we cannot meet our obligations for clerical work since only the amount actually needed was requested," it continued.

The county pays only $12.00 for the salary of a secretary, according to the school office, and this, it is claimed, is not enough to get or keep one of the type required.

Much Help To Boards

Mr. Slaybaugh, in his letter, points out that the secretary has forwarded to Harrisburg applications for tuition for pupils placed by the court, which refers to "welfare children" and declares that this will bring $1,267.61 into the treasuries of the various districts, little, if any of which, would have been obtained if the county office had not taken the initiative in making out the proper applications.

Making out of such applications, the office contends, is a long tedious job, and that further, there are many clerical jobs carried out by the secretary which are of great help to school boards and secretaries.

The county office requested $500 from the districts toward the secretary's salary. Districts with three or more teachers are asked for $20 for the year; districts with one or two teachers, $10, and districts with no teachers, $5 per year.

The present county school board secretary is Miss Justine Charles, Cashtown, a college graduate with considerable experience and executive ability, Mr. Slaybaugh said.

Will Hear Talk On Home Freezer Units

A talk on home freezer units and their construction will feature a meeting to be held Monday night at 7:30 p. m. in the Biglerville auditorium at which the speaker will be Charles Burress, extension agricultural engineer of State College, Pa.

The meeting was arranged primarily for the members of the GI agriculture training classes in Adams county and their instructors, but the general public, including any person interested in the subject, is invited to attend.

Ira Dunmire, assistant county agent, has arranged the meeting, and will preside. Mr. Burress will discuss the construction of home-built freezers and their advantages and disadvantages in comparison with ready-built units, Mr. Dunmire said.

Visitors Thank State For Service

That out-of-state motorists appreciate the service being given by members of the State Police at such entry stations as the one maintained along the Emmitsburg road near the Blue and Gray tourist camp is revealed in a number of complimentary letters received by the Pennsylvania State Police and the Department of Commerce.

The state police distribute highway and pictorial maps and other literature at border points to visitors from other states and ask how they may be of service in directing them to their destinations or suggesting places they might want to visit.

A number of letters sent to the state department have described the courtesy of the state policemen and have thanked the state for the aid provided the tourists.

CONTRIBUTIONS FOR TROOP

The Carolyn Codori Girl Scout troop has acknowledged the receipt of a $10 check from Frank Cremer, Hanover florist.

OBTAIN LICENSE

A marriage license has been issued at Carlisle to Lloyd E. Sprezel, York Springs, and Arlene Hope Riley, Gardners R. 2.

SUV Request Burials In Cemetery Restricted To Present Available Plots And Addition Be Secured

The Gettysburg Camp of the Sons of Union Veterans, Friday night in the GAR home, East Middle street, voted to ask the Department of Interior to retain the beauty of the Cemetery here, that burials be discontinued after present available plots are filled and that an addition be made to the present area for the burial of veterans.

The resolution passed by the camp follows:

"Whereas, President Lincoln dedicated the Soldiers' National cemetery at Gettysburg, November 19, 1863, as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live;

"And whereas, the act of assembly of Pennsylvania creating the Soldiers' National cemetery at Gettysburg provides that said cemetery is to be consecrated for the burial of soldiers who fell in the battle and the skirmishes north of the Potomac in the Gettysburg campaign, in perpetuity, and the United States Government accepted the cemetery from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to maintain and keep according to the act of the Pennsylvania Assembly, which created it, in perpetuity;

Beautiful Shrubbery

"And whereas, at the expense of much time, effort and money, many rare and beautiful trees and shrubbery have been collected from many parts of the world, and the said cemetery has been made one of the most beautiful cemeteries in the world, and impressive Memorial Day exercises have been held annually since the establishment of Memorial Day by General Logan's order, in said cemetery, at which presidents, vice presidents, governors, United States senators and many other prominent and distinguished men have spoken;

"And whereas, we understand there is a possibility that the aforesaid cemetery may be so filled with the bodies of veterans now buried overseas that it would necessitate the removal of the trees, shrubbery and the rostrum from which Memorial Day exercises are held, and the discontinuance of the Memorial Day observance, and that in a short time the cemetery would be filled and still many bodies would remain for which there would be no room;

Preserve Cemetery

"Therefore, resolved, by Gettysburg Camp 112, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War of Gettysburg, Pa., that we request the authorities to preserve the cemetery as it is now, and that an addition be made to this cemetery or that another cemetery be established at Gettysburg for the burial of these and other heroes of World War II and of other wars."

Campfire Program On Lincoln Life

Pictures of the Ford Theatre and similar scenes connected with the assassination of President Lincoln will be featured Sunday evening at the fifth weekly "campfire program" to be held by the Gettysburg National Park on East Cemetery hill at 8:45 o'clock.

Sutton Jett, custodian of the national monuments at Washington will talk on "Lincoln in Washington," illustrating the talk with pictures taken at the time Lincoln was there and pictures of the scenes today.

Ira Dunmire, assistant county agent, has arranged the meeting, and will preside. Mr. Burress will discuss the construction of home-built freezers and their advantages and disadvantages in comparison with ready-built units, Mr. Dunmire said.

That out-of-state motorists appreciate the service being given by members of the State Police at such entry stations as the one maintained along the Emmitsburg road near the Blue and Gray tourist camp is revealed in a number of complimentary letters received by the Pennsylvania State Police and the Department of Commerce.

Hold Shower For Miss Anna Hemler

Honoring Miss Anna Mae Hemler, whose marriage to Robert F. Saylor will take place Saturday, August 30, Mrs. Robert Stoner and Miss Audrey Ann Lowry entertained at a miscellaneous shower Thursday evening at the Saylor home on Baltimore street.

Guests included the Misses Emma Lower, Lorraine Rohrbaugh, Barbara Oyler, Peggy Snyder, Ellie Dillman, Jean Musselman, Ethel Reber, Bernice Hemler, Barbara Klinefelter, Betty Pitzer and Mary Lou Lowry, and Mrs. Charles Hemler.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Marriage licenses were issued at the court house today to Howard Joseph Bigham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bigham, Iron Springs, and Miss Jean Louise Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Myers, Hanover, and to Jack Roberts Hershey, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Hershey, York Springs, and Miss Virginia Mae Fair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fair, York Springs.

During discussion of the resolution Arthur W. Warman, treasurer of the camp, asserted that "It would not be right to destroy the beauty of the national cemetery here, nor would it be right to prevent the burial there of veterans of World War II and other wars. As a personal opinion, I would like to see the government create an addition to the present cemetery on East Cemetery Hill. Such an addition could be established without cost other than the expense of landscaping, and no more beautiful nor fitting spot could be found.

"There must be 15 or 16 acres of land extending from the reservoir down to the avenue. The view from there is beautiful. Regulations could be made to have the tombstones of the same height, perhaps the same height as those used for the Civil War veterans in the present National Cemetery. Shrubbery and trees could be planted, and thus the National Cemetery would have space for veterans for perhaps a century to come. Not only would the bodies of men now buried overseas be accommodated, but there would be room for hundreds of additional veterans who may wish to be buried there."

Large Area Available

A telegram from Chester H. Gross, congressman from Adams, York and Franklin counties, was read in which Gross stated he had met with Newton Drury, Director of the National Park service, and that Drury had assured him the beauty of the present National cemetery would not be destroyed, but that the present cemetery will be closed after present sites set aside for burials are filled. Gross' telegram quoted Drury as having contacted Gettysburg National Cemetery Superintendent Alvin Baker to that effect.

Permanent Firing Squad

Only one other item of business was transacted. M-Sgt. William Baldwin asked the camp to establish a permanent firing squad for use in military funerals here, asserting that since the local state guard unit has been discontinued there is no regular firing squad for burials and the most recent veteran buried here was buried without a firing squad.

The camp voted to authorize David A. Tawney to establish such a firing squad to be used whenever requested for military funerals.

4-H CLUBS TO HOLD ROUNDUP

The Adams county 4-H club roundup will take place August 26, at Gettysburg high school with a morning and afternoon program. Miss Mildred Tomblor, home economics representative, announced today.

There will be a general assembly in the auditorium at 10 a. m., followed by a recreation period in the gymnasium at 10:30 o'clock, and discussions by local leaders and parents and a talk by Chauncey P. Lang, assistant state 4-H leader, State College.

Lunch will be served in the cafeteria at 12 noon, and the afternoon program will open at 1 o'clock, during which a skit "Dear Diary" and a pageant, "It's 4-H" will be presented. Awards in home economics work will be made during the afternoon.

Judges Named

Miss Isabel Myers, assistant state club leader, State College, and Miss Bernice Gustafson, Franklin county home economics representative will be the judges.

Committees are as follows: Recreation: Teresa Murren, chairman; Mrs. C. C. Entenmann, Mrs. Clarence Wilson, Phyllis Reaver and Mrs. George Kennell.

Assembly: Mrs. Charles Gentzler, Mrs. Fred Ecker, Mrs. Charles Baird, Lois Simpson, Mrs. Everette Willis and Mrs. Charles Snider.

Registration: Mrs. David Sanders, Mrs. Warren Martin, Mrs. Emory Gitt, Mrs. Kookan and Mrs. Charles Guise.

GAME ON SUNDAY

The Gettysburg Moose softball team will meet Reading Moose on the Barlow diamond Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

HOME FROM CAMP

Troop A, 104th Cavalry Reconnaissance squadron, Pennsylvania National Guard, returned home this morning from Indiantown Gap.

HIGHWAY TOLL LESS IN FIRST 6 MONTHS, '47

Records of the Bureau of Highway Safety, Department of Revenue, Harrisburg, show that for the first six months of this year there were two less traffic fatalities in Adams county than for the corresponding period last year.

The county, however, was unable to maintain this decrease, since state police records here show that four additional fatalities have occurred since June 30.

The total number killed in motor vehicle accidents for the first six months of 1947 was ten, compared with 12 for the same period in 1946, state figures show.

Two of the ten deaths were in urban areas, and eight in rural areas. During the first six months last year, all 12 deaths were in rural areas.

Three Pedestrians Die

Of those killed up to June 30 this year, three were pedestrians, and two were killed in urban sections. Last year there was only one pedestrian death, and that was in a rural area.

Since the state's report was made up, three persons met death in traffic accidents during July, and one was killed in August.

In the entire state, the death rate showed a total of 711, which is a decrease, for the first six months, of 102 from the 813 a year ago. The 711 is also 241 less than were killed in the first six months of 1941, the last year of unrestricted driving before the war.

The records for the month of June alone this year show that 121 men, women and children were killed on streets and highways in motor vehicle accidents. This June figure is an increase of 31 over the same month in 1946, but a decrease of 61 from June, 1941.

There were 49 pedestrians who lost their lives during June in the state, 20 in the rural areas and 29 in the urban areas. These June pedestrian deaths brought the total number of pedestrians killed for the first six months of this year to 340, which is 38 less than for the corresponding period of 1946 and 105 less than for the same period in 1941.

"The June increase signals alarm," the highway safety bureau says. "The answer is simple. The number of persons killed during the month of June, 1946 was the lowest pre-war and post-war figure in Pennsylvania's history of recording motor vehicle traffic accidents. The present figure of 121 is, in fact, a low figure for the month of June when we consider experiences of past years. It may be considered to be normal."

The state, however, says that these 121 lives were heedlessly lost, and that if both operators and pedestrians had been alert and observant of traffic conditions, the number 121 would be exceedingly high.

Multi-Fatal Drop
The number of multi-fatal accidents and the number of persons killed in this type of accident was reduced during the first six months of 1947 compared with 1946. In 14 less accidents there were 27 fewer deaths.

There are 26 counties where increases are recorded for this 6 month comparative period and Bucks county leads this group with an increase of 12; 34 counties have decreases recorded and Westmoreland county leads with a decrease of 21; 7 counties have no change in their fatality record and Lebanon county leads this list with 7 and 7.

For pedestrian deaths there are 23 counties with recorded increases and 3 counties lead this list, each with an increase of 4 pedestrian deaths. (Bucks, Chester and Lancaster); 28 counties have recorded decreases and Allegheny county leads this list with a decrease of 13 pedestrian deaths; 16 counties had no change in their pedestrian fatality records and Delaware and Fayette counties lead this list, each with 11 pedestrian deaths for the first 6 months of 1946 and 1947.

Man Exonerated In Motorbike Death

Coatesville, Pa., Aug. 23 (AP)—Hilary Johnson of nearby Pomeroy has been exonerated by a coroner's jury in the motorbike death of Earl W. Isaacs, Jr., 18, of Coatesville.

Isaacs was killed last Tuesday on the Lincoln highway here when his motorbike crashed into the rear of a car operated by Johnson.

The jury yesterday ruled the death accidental.

Mr. and Mrs. Starner, Bendersville, and T. J. Winebrenner, Gettysburg, who attended the International Sunday School convention in Des Moines, Iowa, from July 23 to 27, reported briefly on the convention.

Friday evening, December 5, was set as the time for the annual planning conference. Charles Lott, Gettysburg R. D.; T. J. Winebrenner and Chester Mehring, Jr., both of Gettysburg, were appointed to a committee to secure a site for the meeting.

Multi-Fatal Drop
The number of multi-fatal accidents and the number of persons killed in this type of accident was reduced during the first six months of 1947 compared with 1946. In 14 less accidents there were 27 fewer deaths.

Police And Wife Cause Man's Arrest

Roy McFerren, Seven Stars, paid a fine of $10 and costs this morning following a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder on a charge of disorderly conduct brought early today by borough police.

After he had paid his fine, McFerren was held for court on a surety of the peace charge brought against him this morning before Squire Snyder by McFerren's wife, Mrs. Blanche McFerren. He was given until this evening to post $500 bail on the surety of peace charge by the justice.

Simmons Suffering With Eye Trouble

Ray H. Simmons, Mechanicsburg R. D., convicted of the murder of Herby Humpert, Gardner R. D., resident, and now a prisoner at the Dauphin county jail, is suffering from eye trouble. Deputy Sheriff Blaine E. Bixler said today.

A court order was issued Friday permitting the removal of Simmons from the Dauphin jail for treatment while under guard, but no details were immediately available as to the nature of his illness.

Bixler said this morning that the prison doctor there had asked permission to remove Simmons for examination by an eye specialist.

Three Motorists Pay Fines And Costs

Bernard J. Hughes, Nesquehoning, paid a fine of $10 and costs before Justice of the Peace W. D. Brown, Hunterstown, on a charge of driving without a license brought by state police.

Samuel Keckler, York Springs R. 2, paid a fine of $5 and costs before Justice David Hykes, New Oxford R. 1, on a charge of failing to stop at a stop sign brought by state police. Ernest Hammar, East Berlin, paid a fine of $10 and costs before Justice George Brandt, Dillsburg, on an improper passing charge laid by state police.

Wedding

Carr-Glass

Miss Jean Glass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Glass, Littlestown R. D., and Kenneth Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Carr, Westminster, were united in marriage in the Westminster Methodist church on Friday afternoon, August 15, at 3 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Lowell S. Ensor, president of Western Maryland college and former pastor of the church. The bride's attire was a gray suit with black accessories. She wore a corsage of red roses. The attendants were Mrs. Hunichen as matron of honor and Staff Sergeant Hunichen who acted as best man. Staff Sergeant and Mrs. Hunichen are brother-in-law and sister of the bride and are from Eatontown, N. J.

DEATH

Mrs. Clarence W. Klingel

Mrs. Mandilla Sowers Klingel, 67, Pleasant street, New Oxford, widow of Clarence W. Klingel, died Thursday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. She had been ill since the deaths of her husband in June of this year and her son, Russell, in July of this year.

A daughter of the late Jacob and Mary Ann (Wolf) Sowers, she was a member of St. Paul's Reformed church, New Oxford. Surviving are two sons, Guy W. Klingel, New Oxford; and Lester L. Klingel, York; three daughters, Mrs. Retta White-nack, York R. 7; Mrs. Henry Noel, McSherrystown; and Miss Ruth, at home; nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Ella Shetter, Hanover; and one brother, Daniel Sowers, Lancaster.

Funeral services Sunday at 2 p. m. in St. Paul's Reformed church, New Oxford. The body will lie in state in the church from noon until 2 p. m. on Sunday. The Rev. Archie Rohrbach will officiate. Interment in the New Oxford cemetery. Friends may call at the William A. Peiser funeral home, Hanover, on Saturday evening.

Things Of The Soil

Growing Nuts As Farm Crops

A statistical glance at our nut growing industry, including walnuts (English), pecans, almonds and filberts, indicates we are producing commercially around 282 million pounds a year and consuming over 310 million pounds. In other words, with the greatest variety of soils and climatic conditions suitable for nut growing within the confines of one nation, we are dependent on outside sources for these crops. Of course, these figures do not include the native black walnut, which is rapidly increasing in demand for candy making, baking and related products.

Of course, chestnuts scarcely enter into considerations of nut growing since blight destroyed almost all the native trees east of the Mississippi river over the last thirty years. However, the blight resistant Asiatic varieties now available should receive prominent appraisal as profitable trees to plant where nuts are planned as a farm sideline revenue crop. Americans still retain a gastronomic fondness for this once popular nut, and the imported varieties and hybrids offer a suitable substitute for the native strain.

Farmers interested in nut culture in this latitude may consider at least three hardy nuts for commercial production—the blight resistant chestnut, filberts and black walnuts, with improved strains of shagbark and shellbark hickorynuts and experimental plantings of both pecans and English walnuts (often called Persian walnuts) added.

Most of our commercial supply of filberts are grown in the northwest, mainly in Washington and Oregon. But the native filbert (hazelnut) thrives throughout the Appalachian region and the improved strains, both English and American, should be thoroughly tested for this region.

Pecans and Persian walnuts are grown commercially in almost all

25 COMPANIES MAY MARCH IN COUNTY PARADE

At least twenty-five fire companies from Frederick, Carroll, York, Lancaster, and Adams Counties have already signified their intention of participating in the firemen's parade at Littlestown on Labor Day, September 1, at 4 p. m. Most of the companies will bring a piece of apparatus, and many will be accompanied by a band or musical organization. There will be a number of Ladies' Auxiliaries included in the marching units.

A first prize of $100 will be given to the best-appearing fire company with not less than 24 men in line, accompanied by a musical organization of not less than 25 men, and a second prize of $50. The best-appearing musical organization will be given $50, and the second best $25. A prize of $25 will be awarded the company with the best-appearing fire truck in line. The best-appearing ladies' auxiliary will be given $50, and the second best $25.

Firemen began the erection of stands and tents Friday evening in preparation for the week-long carnival which will begin Monday night and continue through Labor Day. There will be a different musical organization featured each night.

Briefs and Personals

Rev. Grantas E. Hoopert, pastor of Centenary Methodist church, Littlestown, whose home was quarantined Friday because the illness of his 10-year-old daughter has been diagnosed as poliomyelitis, announced today that services will be conducted as usual on Sunday morning. The parsonage is quarantined, but a guest minister is scheduled to speak at the morning service. He is Rev. John Frehn, pastor of the Duncannon Methodist church, and a former local pastor.

John R. Bloom has returned home from Cleveland, O., where he attended the first annual reunion of the 83rd Infantry Division, of which he was a member.

Mrs. Rose Eckenrode and granddaughter, Miss Shirley Storm, this place, and Mrs. Elizabeth McKim, California, spent Wednesday in Taneytown, with Mrs. Eckenrode's sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reaver and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Peiser and family.

William J. Yingling, who has been a patient at the Marine hospital in Baltimore for two weeks, returned to his home on Wednesday. He is much improved.

Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth D. James, son, James, have returned home after spending two weeks at Ocean City, N. J.

states south of New England, with the heaviest production centered generally in the South. However, both trees withstand northern winters and produce heavy crops under suitable conditions. They, too, merit impartial tests as revenue crops in this region.

Of course, black walnuts thrive in the north. Improved stock, usually propagated by budding or grafting, produce a better grade nut than the native trees, but even the native sorts bring profitable returns when grown and marketed efficiently.

As a nation we are consuming less than 3 pounds of nuts per capita, not including peanuts. Demands for black walnuts and hickorynuts are increasing, especially in confections and fancy bakery products. Many ice cream manufacturers, for example, report that their use of nuts in ice cream is limited chiefly by the available supply. Inquiries to several candy manufacturers elicit similar replies. It is not unreasonable to judge that American farmers may easily grow the 30 million pounds (average) of nuts we import each year, but adequate production to stimulate demands might increase domestic consumption to more than double our present low figure.

An important fact about nut culture is that it is economical on land. Nut trees can be grown on land too steep for safe use in cultivated crops. Often they can be planned to utilize land otherwise kept idle. The industry fits well into reforestation programs.

Black Locust From Seed

Black locust is a profitable timber tree, reaching salable size in less time than most other native trees, especially for posts and mine props. It is regarded as No. 1 among trees for checking surface erosion and for rescuing badly gullied hillsides from rain and restoring such menaced land to productive roles. In fact, it is not unreasonable to assume that many hill farmers could obtain a greater return financially from planting black locust trees than from any other use to which they might put their land.

One of the least expensive ways to start black locust trees is to gather the seed pods in late summer and fall as soon as they ripen and plant the seed in early spring in a fertile garden bed. Of course, one more year is required for growing seedling than for starting plantings from wild sprouts, but the required labor for the latter method is considerable and results are never as favorable as from the use of well rooted seedling trees grown in the environment of the garden.

Black locust seed ripens variously, according to the particular tree habits and its location, from late summer until late fall. Most of the pods remain on the tree, thereby requiring use of a ladder for gathering. If the tree is being cut for timber use, pods may be more easily gathered. There may be slight inheritance of tree vigor and type through the seed, hence it is advisable to choose seed from specimens worth reproduction.

Seed pods should be spread out on a table or other raised surface in the sun or well ventilated room or shed to dry thoroughly, after which the seed is removed. Four to six pounds of pods should yield about a pound of cleaned seed. The germination rate of black locust seed is unusually low. But from a pound of seed, containing from 20,000 to 25,000 seeds, the grower may reasonably expect germination of 2,000 to 5,000.

Dry seed should be stored in a medium warm and dry place over winter, although freezing would not likely prove injurious.

Planting as early in March as soil and weather conditions permit is advised. Cermination requires pre-planting treatment of seed, preferably by soaking in warm water for 12 to 20 hours. This is necessary to break the hard covering that otherwise might hinder germination entirely. The water should be held at a level of around 160 degrees F.

The seed bed plays an important role in seedling growth. It should be well drained, deeply mellow, sandy loam. Some acidity is apparently beneficial although not necessary, perhaps through reducing disease dangers. Such acidity can be obtained by mixing woods soil in ordinary garden loam. If coldframe space is available, glass should be kept in place until after seed germinates.

It is wise to sow seed rather close in drills 6 inches wide and to cover not more than one-fourth inch deep with a sandy loam that will not form a crust. A light mulch of pine needles is often beneficial in maintaining moisture and providing warmth.

A good seedling black locust should be one-year old when ready to transplant to its permanent growing place, 12 to 18 inches tall, with a long and tapering taproot. Overgrown tops do not necessarily indicate a first class seedling.

DODGERS, CUBS WIN; YANKEES BEATEN TWICE

By JOE REICHLER
(By The Associated Press)

That glossy pennant picture, as painted only the other day by Eddie Dyer, master manipulator of the St. Louis Cardinals, appeared today to have become somewhat blurred.

Despite Dyer's assertion following St. Louis' recent series with the Dodgers, that it would be a fight right down to the wire "with the Cards winning it," it was doubtful whether the unpredictable Redbirds have ever been worse off than at this moment.

Beaten for the second time in three games by the lowly Phillies in Philadelphia last night, the Cards skidded to six full games behind the front running Brooklyn team in the hectic National League race. Although they have trailed by more game on other occasions, they have so little time to make up the deficit.

Beat Reds in 12th
With only three more cracks left at the Dodgers, the Cards have but 35 more games left to play, to 33 for the Brooks.

The Brooks, unlike the Cards, continued to fatten up on the second division outfits, eking out a 6-5 victory in 12 hard-fought innings at Ebbets field. A miff of a throw ball by Catcher Ray Lamanno enabled Dixie Walker of the Dodgers to score the winning run.

A triple by Walker had highlighted a two-run eighth inning rally which gave the Dodgers a 5-3 advantage but the Cincinnati Reds tied the score in the ninth on two singles, an error and a double by Bobby Adams.

A ninth inning home run by Al Lakeman with one on won for the Phillies 4-2. The four-base blow was a climax to a pitching duel between Dutch Leonard of the Phils and Harry (the Cat) Brecheen of the Cards. There was one out when Lakeman, a 143 hitter filling in for the injured First Baseman Howie Schultz, cracked the ball into the left field seats.

Yanks Lose Two
Bob Feller pitched his 15th victory of the season as the Cleveland Indians swept a double header from the American League leading New York Yankees 4-3 and 6-1 before 52,105 fans at Municipal stadium. Feller allowed only four hits in winning the afterpiece making three wild pitches, walking seven and striking out five. His own error in the seventh led to the lone Yankee run.

Ted Williams collected six hits in seven times at bat as the Boston Red Sox divided a doubleheader with the White Sox in Chicago. Williams got two hits in three times in the first game and four for four in the second which was won by Boston 6-3. The White Sox, behind Ed Lopat, won the opener 7-2. The Red Sox now trail the Yankees by 12 games.

Cubs Beat Braves
After appearing in 37 games in relief for the Chicago Cubs, Emil Kush held the Boston Braves to four hits for a 5-1 victory while making his first 1947 start. The defeat dropped the Braves to seven and a half games back of Brooklyn. The New York Giants increased their season home run output to 166 when Will Marshall, Walker Cooper and Mickey Witte slammed four-baggers to lead them to an 8-7 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates at the Polo Grounds.

After absorbing a double defeat at the hands of Washington Thursday, the Detroit Tigers retaliated by winning two from the Senators in Detroit 7-6 and 2-0.

A three-run double by Walt Judnich in the eighth inning enabled the Browns to come from behind and defeat the fast traveling Philadelphia Athletics 7 to 5 in a night game at St. Louis.

Need Certificate To Collect Money

Harrisburg, Aug. 23 (AP)—The state Young Men's Christian Association is required to obtain a certificate of registration from the commonwealth before soliciting money for charitable purposes, Attorney General T. McKeen Chidsey, has ruled.

Noting the Welfare Department had raised the question after the state organization claimed exemption from the 1925 law requiring registration, Chidsey said in an opinion yesterday "it is obvious that the state Young Men's Christian Association of Pennsylvania is not a religious organization, but purely public charity, and only to the extent indicated."

"While some of its purposes and objects may be spiritual in nature," the opinion said, "yet the organization itself is largely educational and charitable in its purposes and objects, and purely commercial in many of its operations."

PILOT OF PLANE DIES IN CRASH

Somerset, Pa., Aug. 23 (AP)—The pilot and lone occupant was killed in the crash of a plane in a field near here during a driving rain storm.

Deputy Coroner C. T. Saylor identified the dead pilot as Chesney Quentin Voigt, 40, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Voigt, live in West Salem, Ill. Saylor said a card listing Voigt as a lieutenant commander in the navy was found among the pilot's effects.

Voigt was wearing civilian clothes at the time of the crash late yesterday.

State police said several addresses were found. Among them was a letter addressed to Voigt at 242 East 62nd street, New York.

The investigating officer said maps in the plane indicated Voigt was en route to Washington from West Salem.

There were no eyewitnesses to the crash which occurred near a heavily wooded section. Police said, however, several farmers had heard the plane "making passes" at nearby fields in an apparent effort to land.

Police expressed the opinion that Voigt may have been trying to make a forced landing.

105,840 VIEW WALLOPING OF BEARS BY STARS

Chicago, Aug. 23 (AP)—Although the football season still is just around the corner, a terrific upset already is on the books — the All-Stars 16 to 0 triumph over the Chicago Bears.

The score doesn't begin to indicate the beating the National Football league champions took last night as 105,840 spectators who poured $355,000 into the till watched in surprise and near disbelief in Soldier Field. The Bears failed to get beyond the All-Stars' 30 yard line.

Adroitly buoyed to the precise edge by Coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame and his staff, the All-Stars humbled the 13-point favorites as they seldom have been humbled before on any field.

Owner-Coach George Halas' demons of the pro circuit swaggered confidently onto the sweltering gridiron from a comfortable 69 degrees of their dressing room. They never did get warmed up. The All-Stars' great field general and passer, George Ratterman of Notre Dame, and Mercurial Buddy Young of Illinois engineered two touchdowns in the first quarter to topple the Bears for the first time in five appearances in the classic.

Defensive Nightmare
The All-Star line, patched with guards at tackle positions because of training injuries, became a defensive nightmare for the Halas boys, holding the Bears' high-octane ground game to a total of 35 yards by rushing. The fast-charging forwards also short-circuited the Bears' vaunted aerial attack which clicked for only 81 yards as Sid Luckman completed eight tosses and absorbed several long losses being trapped and spilled.

In addition to watching the so-called invincible Bears take a whipping, professional club owners and coaches in attendance received the satisfaction of seeing many of their chancellors among the All-Stars spared injuries. Aside from bruises, no one got hurt.

Ratterman, Young Star
The 5 foot 5 inch Young, who has matched the world's record of 9.4 in the 100 yard dash, appears destined for a great pro career with the New York Yankees of the All-American conference, and Ratterman's quarterbacking and passing should give the Buffalo Bills of the same loop a feared offensive.

Charley Trippi, the Chicago Cardinals' $100,000 investment; Doc Blanchard of Army, Jim Mello of Notre Dame (Boston Yankees), Julie Rykovich of Illinois (Buffalo Bills) and other prize players performed up to standard but Young and Ratterman made the All-Stars sparkle.

At the outset the All-Stars marched 82 yards to score. Young zipped down the sidelines 31 yards on a lateral from Ratterman; Trippi added 19, Mello belted 15 and the final six through right tackle.

Lose Two Chances
The second score capped an 87 yard thrust in six plays. Ratterman, faking a punt, tossed five yards to the fleet-footed negro who stepped off 36 more behind excellent blocking of four teammates. Ratterman, then hit Jack Zilly (Los Angeles Rams) with a 40-yard pass. The Notre Dame end scored without a man near him.

The All-Stars stabbed to the one yard line twice in the last half but failed to cash in. In the first crack to the one, Blanchard failed to smash over on last down.

Ernie Case of U.C.L.A. (Baltimore Colts) placekicked one point after touchdown and missed one. In the third period he booted a 23-yard field goal after guard John Mast-trangelo of Notre Dame (Pittsburgh Steelers) pounced on George McAfee's fumble.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)
The Utica Blue Sox, rallying in the last of the ninth, edged the Wiles-Barre Barons, 8 to 7, last night to add a full game to the Eastern League margin as the Williamsport Tigers snapped the Albany Senators' victory string at nine.

Stan Lopata, Blue Sox catcher, wallowed a double to drive over the tying and winning runs. The league leaders' margin stretched to five and a half games.

The Tigers clubbed four hurlers at Albany for an easy 15-4 conquest on 18 hits.

The Scranton Miners racked up their third shut out in a row over the Binghamton Triplets at Binghamton. Big Jack Fasholz wielded the 2-0 whitewash brush, yielding four scattered singles and one walk and fanning 12 batters.

The Hartford Chiefs moved into sixth place, ahead of the Triplets, when they defeated the Elmira Pioneers, 8 to 3, at Hartford.

The Chiefs sewed it up with a five-run rally in the sixth inning after Elmira Manager Ralph Winegarner had got his team off to an early lead by homering in the second.

Last night's games concluded season series for the various rivals. Utica captured 14 of 20 games played with Wiles-Barre, Albany completed the season set from Williamsport by the same margin, and Scranton also won 14 of 20 played with Binghamton.

No games are scheduled for today.

SEVEN HORSES AND SULKIES IN TRACK PILE-UP

Westbury, N. Y., Aug. 23 (AP)—Another new harness racing record was on the books today, but the 26,896 fans who set it established by the famed Chestertown still shuddered as they recalled the near-catastrophe that marred the running of the Roosevelt Raceway feature.

A spectacular pileup of 7 horses in the bulky field of 15 competing in the $40,150 Roosevelt two-mile trot last night stunned the record crowd and sent 3 of the country's leading reinsmen to the hospital.

Chestertown managed to lead half of the field past the tangle of rearing horses and wrecked sulkies at the first turn and emerged the winner in 4:19 2/5, eclipsing the world mark for a half-mile track set by Peter Manning in 1925.

One Seriously Hurt
Most seriously hurt was Henry Thomas, 57, of Los Angeles, driver of the 5 to 2 favorite, Kaola, first horse to go down. He was in Nassau County hospital with several broken ribs and was suffering from shock. His condition was reported as fair.

Charley Witt, 56, of Stockton, Calif., pilot of Frontiersman, was taken to the same hospital suffering possible rib fractures, a possible shoulder fracture and shock. His condition also was listed as fair.

Franklin Safford, 51, of Keene, N. H., leading driver on the harness racing circuit the last three years, was treated at the hospital for rib injuries and then released. He was driving Tompkins Hanover.

Favorite Stumbles
Witnesses said Kaola, bay mare which won last year's Golden West trot in world record time of 2:32, seemed to stumble and fall. In a split second, sulkies locked wheels and the scene was a mass of rearing, kicking horses, wrecked sulkies and sprawling drivers.

"Horses piled over horses in sickening succession," said E. Roland Harriman, honorary president of the U.S. Trotting Association, who witnessed the accident from an upper balcony.

Octave Blake, president of the Grand Circuit, related:

"I was watching my horse, Axomite, when the crash came. In some way, Driver Fenner Hawkins fell clear and rolled under the fence. He was uninjured and so was Axomite. It seemed to me that Kaola simply stumbled. She was clear of all interference when she went down."

Record Betting
Other horses involved were Captain January, Walter Spencer, Frontiersman and J. T. Barnes. As far as could be determined, none of them was injured seriously, although Kaola suffered badly cut hind legs after regaining her feet to emerge from the tangle and dash around the track kicking and dragging her battered sulky.

Chestertown, owned by W. E. Smith of Los Angeles and R. Newman of New Orleans, was driven by Sanders Russell and returned $12.60. Reylard, driven by Don Miller, was second, and Proximity, handled by Clint Hodgkins, finished third.

Both the attendance and the mutual handle of $964,709 set new record for the Long Island racing plant.

Mummasburg

Mummasburg—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mickle, of Illinois, are visiting relatives in this community. Mr. Mickle was formerly from here, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Mickle.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Secrest and daughter, Janette, and son, Gene, of Neumanstown, and Mr. and Mrs. F. Folden, of near Chambersburg, were recent visitors at the home of Mrs. George Folden. They all visited George Folden, who is a patient at the Warner hospital.

The Rev. and Mrs. Amos Myer recently visited at the home of Mrs. Myers' mother, Mrs. Annie Douthett, Paradise. Mrs. Myer remained with her mother who has been ill for some time.

WILLIE PEP BEATS LESLIE IN 12TH HEAT

Flint, Mich., Aug. 23 (AP)—Willie Pep, 24-year-old Hartford comet put notice in the record today that after eight years of professional boxing his lease on the world featherweight championship is renewed.

Before a crowd of 10,385 last night in Flint's outdoor Atwood stadium, the Connecticut speedster stood off the first challenge to his crown: since he stopped Sal Bartolo in New York in June 1946, and won a twelfth-round kayo. His challenger was Flint's ambitious hometown boy, Jack Leslie, with 34 knockouts to his credit in 68 fights, and Pep blasted him to the canvas in 45 seconds of the 12th stanza.

Moreover, Pep's demonstration of ringcraft, rocking punches and stamina was decisive virtually throughout, although Leslie tried to force the engagement from the beginning with his hunched attack and crouching defense.

Retins Punch
The verdict of veteran ringsiders, however, was that Pep's legs had slowed considerably since his airplane accident last January, but he had compensated for it with sheer punching power.

His slugging toward the end of the 11th round simply was too much for Leslie to absorb, and as the 12th round began Pep maneuvered the challenger into the ropes and tagged him for a nine count with a vicious right to the head.

Leslie, bleeding from the mouth and a gash over the right eye, was staggering, and the Hartford comet needed only an abbreviated flurry of rights and lefts to tumble him.

Referee Clarence Rosen and Judges Joe Lenehan of Detroit and Eddie Haley of Flint were unanimous in giving Leslie only the second round when his close range body punches kept the champion backpedaling. From the 4th through the 10th, however, it was all Pep mainly because he kept making Leslie's aggressiveness more and more costly.

Receive $25,000
The victory was Pep's 115th in 117 battles and his 40th knockout as a professional, and it ended a string of eight straight hometown triumphs for Leslie.

For his 34 minutes of toil Pep collected a guarantee of $25,000 from a gross gate of $62,525.50. Leslie collected approximately $7,000 and Promoter Cussans came approximately $10,000 in the black for his first championship venture.

ANDY TOMASIC
AFTER RECORD

(By The Associated Press)
The Interstate league had a new strikeout king today in the person of handy Andy Tomasic, 27-year-old Trenton Giant right-hander.

Tomasic former Temple university star, struck out 13 last night to boost his season's total to 250 and lead the Giants to a 3 to 2 victory over the Sunbury Yankees in the second game of a doubleheader at Trenton. The former league mark of 239 was established by Norm Shope of York in 1944.

Hal Bamberger's home run in the ninth inning broke a 2-all stalemate to help Tomasic win his 17th of the season and ninth in a row. Tomasic was touched for three hits. He was rewarded with gifts from Trenton merchants and the Trenton sports fans.

Southpaw Roger Bowman blanked Sunbury 1 to 0 on four hits in the opener to give the league-leading Giants a sweep of the twin bill. It was Bowman's ninth straight win and 15th of the season.

In other games big Jim Halkard poled a triple with two mates aboard and a homer with the bases loaded to lead the Allentown Cardinals to a 7 to 3 win over Hagerstown; the Wilmington Blue Rocks rallied in the ninth inning to turn back Harrisburg 7 to 3, and York swept a doubleheader from Lancaster 6 to 3 and 7 to 6, the second in 10 innings.

Today's games:
Lancaster at York, Sunbury at Trenton, Harrisburg at Wilmington, Allentown at Hagerstown.

2 U.S. Scouts Help To Clear Jamboree

Moisson, France, Aug. 23 (AP)—Only two Americans remain in the ghost camp that was the scene of the International Boy Scout Jamboree.

Ray Whidden of Portland, Ore., and Ray Bryan of Greenville, N. Y., stayed behind yesterday to help sort tons of American equipment which the American scout contingents left behind for needier delegations as a parting goodwill gesture.

Among the last Americans to leave were Joe Sterrett of Grove City, Pa., and Charles R. Dien of Oil City, Pa.

ATTEND GRID GAME
Fifteen members of the Young Men's Bible Class of St. James Lutheran church, their teacher, Orville Orner, and Mrs. Orner, attended the professional football game between the Baltimore Colts and the Buffalo Bills Friday night at the Hershey stadium.

Sports Roundup

By CHARLES DUNKLEY

Chicago, Aug. 23 (AP)—Rain or shine, a fast track or a muddy one, will make no difference to those great handicap stars, Assault and Armed, which meet in the richest match in turf history at Chicago's Washington Park a week from today.

They'll go to the post in the $100,000 winner-take-all event regardless of track conditions, in keeping with the traditions of American thoroughbred racing. There had been reports that the race would not take place if the track were not fast.

The $100,000 purse exceeds by $15,000 the previous highest award for the Zev-Papyrus match race at New York's Belmont Park on October 20, 1923. Zev, in that race, conquered the Epsom Downs winner.

The Armed-Assault showdown will be held on the next-to-last day of the Washington Park meeting, which means that Armed will skip the $50,000 added Washington Park Handicap on Labor Day.

Matching of Assault, the 1946 horse of the year, a four-year-old, and Armed, a six-year-old breaker of track records under heavy weight imposts, is a personal triumph for Benjamin F. Lindheimer, executive director of both Washington and Arlington Parks, and one of the most progressive leaders in American racing. He spent weeks in lining up the match. Assault is owned by Robert J. Kleberg, owner of the vast King Ranch in Texas. Warren Wright, whose racing establishment is the Calumet farm, is the owner of Armed.

The distance will be a mile and a quarter, with each horse carrying 126 pounds. Jockey Douglas Dodson, contract rider for Calumet Farm, will pilot Armed with the hard-riding Eddie Arcaro being aboard Assault.

The sensational horses have never raced against each other, which gives added zest to the coming showdown. Assault is the second leading money winner of all-time, having won $623,370. Armed has piled up $604,080.

SCARCITY OF PREP GRID COACHES GROWING
High school football across the nation is growing like weeds in a wet ditch. The 1947 season will be a whooper from the standpoint of youths participating. National prep athletic officials in Chicago say the postwar increase in supplies of athletic equipment will bring more boys out in football suits. But an alarming number of football coaches, because their salaries haven't kept up with high living costs, are quitting their jobs and the supply of coaches won't keep up with demand.

NATE LEWIS,
OLD-TIME FIGHT
MGR., GROWING WEAKER
Nate Lewis, among the last of the thinning ranks of pioneer fight managers, is desperately ill. He is completely paralyzed. His power of speech is gone. Lewis, who managed Pal Moore, George "Knockout" Brown, Charlie White, Joe Burman, Leo Rodak, and Kid Herman, among others, is being cared for in a Chicago nursing home through the generosity of friends. Lewis steered Kid Herman into a match with Joe Gans 40 years ago, which means he's been connected with boxing for more than 50 years.

Will Get Bids
On New Hospital
Philadelphia, Aug. 23 (AP)—Bids will be advertised September 2 for the 564-bed neuropsychiatric addition to the Veterans Administration hospital at Lebanon.

The new construction will include a medical rehabilitation building, a disturbed ward building, chapel, quarters for internes, resident physicians, attendants, officers and manager and laundry and boiler additions. The structures will be concrete foundations with brick facing and stone trim.

Today's Talk

MEDITATION HOUR

How fast each day recedes—24 hours and no more! These hours drag and irritate, and only add to one's discouragement, if all are not usefully and happily used. But, if each hour is taken in its stride, and used to its fullest gift of values, then there is contentment at the end of each 24 hours.

All of these hours, however, should not be devoted to work, at least work of the same character. Each day should be given a variety of tasks, some pleasant and some not so pleasant, for we must ever be ready to accept what comes our way, without complaint.

I am certain, under all the circumstances, however, that if we would try to devote one hour each day to meditation, closing that hour with a brief secret prayer, we would be so much happier as we wend our way to the sleep of the night.

We can review the acts and experiences of the day. We can take from the library of memory some precious volume that may contain the happy experiences of years—good talks of long ago with those we have loved, but lost, spots of beauty that have thrilled us at times, and great books that have opened up new vistas to the world. We can review our own lives and note wherein we have failed ourselves and those we love. We can make resolves—all secretly—and walk out into each new day with the hope and faith of a conqueror!

Problems come up during every day. At the time we may not be able to arrange them in their right light. So, we can leave many of them to the meditation hour when we can think them all out and give them their proper consideration, or settlement, as the case may be. Or,
at this hour we can just let our fancy float, or our imagination take its favorite wings and go on happy journeys!

After the reading of a worthwhile book, it is always profitable to meditate upon its outstanding characteristics. Review it in your mind, and see if you can compose a brief sketch of it to recite to some friend, and do it sufficiently well, so that friend will want to read the book, too. Meditation not only rests the mind, but happily stimulates it.

COMMON GROUND

If race and creed
Of hate are seed,
Then cattle are
The nobler breed.

If human worth
Belongs to birth,
Then never can
Be peace on earth.

Not pigment hue
Stamps me and you,
But what we are
And what we do.

Where good is found,
Where hearts are sound
All men should meet
On common ground.

SENATOR BILBO DIES; GUARD OF HONOR AT BIER

Poplarville, Miss., Aug. 23 (AP)—
Mississippians, who never deserted Theo G. Bilbo under the fire of outside criticism of his racial beliefs, planned their final respects today for the state's most spectacular political figure.

The arrangements would have been to the liking of the 69-year-old senator-elect who died of heart failure at New Orleans yesterday after a long illness which began with cancer of the mouth and became complicated by inflammation of the nerves, partial paralysis and a blood clot in the lungs.

The body was to be brought to Poplarville to lie in state this afternoon and tonight at Bilbo's "dream house."

Guard of Honor

A detachment of the Mississippi
National Guard was ordered by Gov.
Fielding L. Wright to stand as a guard of honor for the man who served as state senator, lieutenant governor, twice as governor, and who was elected to the United States Senate three times.

Bilbo's death ended without decision "the man's" last political fight
—an effort to take his seat in the Senate despite bi-partisan opposition from those who charged that he was unfit for the post.

He was accused of intimidating negroes in a move to keep them from voting in the 1946 Democratic primary election when he was nominated for third term. A Senate committee which held hearings at Jackson, Miss., divided—three Democrats voting to find Bilbo innocent and two Republicans filing a minority report which held him guilty.

Another committee, after hearings at Washington, reported that the evidence "clearly indicates that Senator Bilbo improperly used his high office as a United States senator for his personal gain in his dealings with war contractors."

Accused of Graft
The committee accused him of accepting "gratuities or benefits" of between $57,089 and $88,721.

As the 80th Congress convened, a two day battle over Bilbo developed, with the Republican majority attempting to refuse to seat the senator and with a group of southern Democrats starting a filibuster.

A compromise was reached under which Bilbo was allowed to draw his Senate salary and allowances while he underwent treatment for his cancer. A showdown vote was delayed until his health would permit him to return to claim his seat.

Bilbo always insisted that he would carry on the fight if he lived, and if he died, he declared, he would "go back to Washington" and haunt the hell out of his enemies.

A senator to fill Bilbo's unexpired term, which has longer than five years to go, will be named in the state's general election November 4.

Boy Is Smothered Under Tons Of Gravel

Pierpont, Ohio, Aug. 23 (AP)—Eight-year old George Zakel, Jr., of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, was smothered to death under tons of gravel in a pit on the Andy Brewer farm, just off Route 7, near here.

The boy was playing nearby on Thursday while his brother, James, 16, and their father were loading a truck with gravel. A pile of the gravel collapsed, striking the father and older brother and partially burying the truck.

They did not know until a half hour later, when a tractor hauled the truck from under the gravel, that George had been buried in the slide. An hour's resuscitation work failed to revive him.

The Zakels had been vacationing
here the last three weeks.

DONALD JOHNSON VERDICT STANDS

Philadelphia, Aug. 23 (AP)—The conviction of Donald M. Johnson, son of former U. S. District Judge Albert W. Johnson, on charges of defrauding the government has been upheld by the third U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The Circuit Court also ordered the acquittal of another Johnson son, Miller A., and upheld the conviction of John Memolo and Jacob Greene, found guilty by a U. S. District Court jury at Harrisburg, Pa., last March 24 with Donald Johnson.

Former Judge Johnson and a third son, Capt. Albert W., Jr., were acquitted of the conspiracy charge at the Harrisburg trial. Presiding Judge James Alger Fee pronounced the maximum punishment of $10,000 fine and two years' imprisonment against those convicted.

The elder Johnson, his sons and the other two were tried on indictments charging corruption in 11 re-ceivership and criminal cases heard by the former jurist during his 20 years on the federal bench in the Middle district of Pennsylvania.

In ordering the acquittal of Miller A. Johnson, the Circuit Court ruled that no evidence was presented to link him with the alleged conspiracy.

The local post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will conclude their two-night picnic this evening at the armory with a program of amusements, music, etc.

Mrs. John A. Staub, who was married July 26, was guest of honor at with Mrs. Paul F. Rabine, sister of Mrs. Staub, as co-hostess. Each person attending brought a gift for the bride, and a buffet supper was served. Those present were: The Misses Doris Staub and Regina

Smith, Hanover; Mary Colgan and Patricia Funk, McSherrystown; Mrs.
Plus I. Smith, mother of the bride;

Mrs. John R. Staub, her mother-in-law; Mrs. J. Randolph Staub, Mrs.
John P. Smith, Mrs. Francis Rabine,
Mrs. Urban Robinson, Mrs. Nelson
Orndorff, and the Misses Dolores Staub, Mary Wagner, Eleanor Miller, Shirley and Lorraine O'Brien.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Dunstan,

AGGRESSION IS BUG-A-BOO FOR WORLD POWERS

(By The Associated Press)

At the Rio conference of the American Republics an old international teaser has risen again:
when do friendly nations go to each others' help?

Time and again nations have tried to define aggression so they would be agreed at what point to gang up and stop a war-maker. That seems simple enough to a layman.
But the league of nations spent months arguing the question and got nowhere. Russia's foreign commissioner of the day, Maxim Litvinoff, pressed for an agreement that would send the member states out after anyone who:

1. Declared war on another state.
2. Invaded another nation.
3. Attacked the territory, vessels or aircraft of another nation.
4. Set up a naval blockade.

Violate Our Formula

5. Supported armed bands active in another country or refused to take steps at home to deny aid to such bands.

Litvinoff failed in the league, but under him in the 30's Russia put the provisions into treaties with Romania, Estonia, Latvia, Poland, Turkey, Iran and Afghanistan.

Some now think that, if the league
had approved the Litvinoff plan, point five would have prevented World War II. It could have been invoked against Germany in Spain, Austria and Czechoslovakia.

And, ironically, with Litvinoff ill and in the discard, today's Russia probably would be adjudged the culprit under his formula.

The idea of defining aggression got a little flesh on its bones at the 1945 Chapultepec conference.
There the American Republics did promise to stop any nation whose troops crossed international borders in the western hemisphere.

Bobs Up Again

The idea came up at the San Francisco conference of the United Nations, but failed.

Now the Republics gathered at Rio have been asked again to decide when aggression starts.

Cuba's Guillermo Belt started it with a request for action against "economic aggression." That shot was fired at the United States, which, through a recent sugar act,
permits the Secretary of Agriculture to limit U. S. purchase of sugar.

Name Engineer At Pittsburgh

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—The War department announced Thursday the appointment of Col. Louis
H. Foote as acting chief of army district engineers at Pittsburgh.
Col. Foote will relieve Col. Walter E. Lorence, who has submitted his resignation rather than accept a transfer to China. Col. Foote is now assistant to the division engineer at Cincinnati.

Track Tidal Waves With Sub Detectors

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—A once-secret magnetic device used to track down submarines is now hunting the birthplace of huge tidal waves such as the one which swept death and destruction across Hawaii last year.

Geologists have been surveying the Aleutians by air with a magnet-ometer to help the Navy predict volcanic eruptions and other movements of the earth's crust which cause gigantic waves to heave up on beaches thousands of miles away.

wherever a nation refuses American citizens fair treatment. That worries Cuba because her welfare rises and falls by large sales of sugar to the U. S.

But Belt's demand is a perfect example of the difficulty of defining aggression.

Lover Of Cats Has 53 Of Them

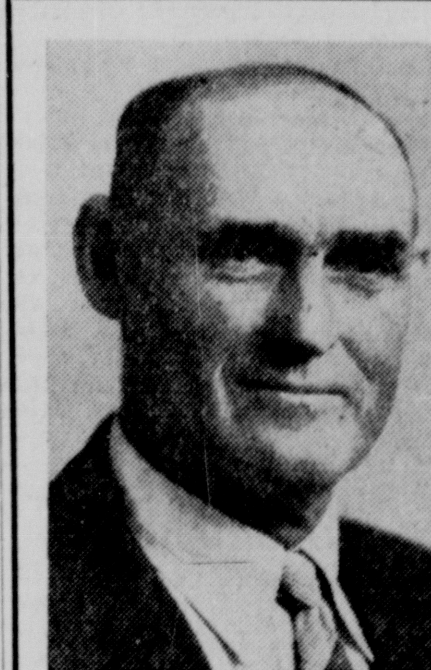

Los Angeles, Aug. 23 (AP)—Mrs. Eva
Craft, to put it mildly, likes cats.
So much so, in fact, her neighbors complained to the city health department when the total number of felines, at her house they said, reached 53.

Inspector Harry S. Smedley, Jr., investigated and reported he lost count before he got to 53. Mrs. Craft, 72-year-old widow, said she didn't know how many there were—"I haven't counted recently."

"They're the sweetest things in the world," she added.

Smedley said he would spare her felines—so long as they don't become a menace to public health. He suggested, however, she find other homes for some of them.

We'd Like To Know

As the years roll on some things about cars and motoring never seem to make any sense. Right now, sitting under a spreading elm, I am wondering—

Why do so few tourists ever carry an extra inner tube? Why do most automobile electric clocks give up the ghost early in life? Why do so many automobile manufacturers stress the quality and beauty of upholstery when so many buyers immediately cover it up with cheap looking slip covers? Why do buyers permit car makers to stick their trade marks all over the products? Would these buyers wear the tailor's label on the back of their coats? And why hasn't someone thought to market an improved water for the cooling system? It could be soft water with a little rust inhibitor. What a market!

Let's Get It Straight

If there's one thing needed above all else in motordom at the moment it is a little of that good old common sense. I was reminded of this when someone told me of a fellow who had bought a very good used car for "only $500." A short while before another party had told me that the same fellow had sold his old car for $1,000. At one and the same time, according to this spurious form of thinking, this motorist had picked up an amazing bargain and had unloaded a piece of junk for what the underworld so lovingly calls a "grand."

Of course what happened was that a used car dealer allowed the buyer $1,000 on the purchase of a $1,500 car. This car was as overpriced as the car being traded in, possibly more so. You could not tell without knowing the condition of both cars. At any rate the car wasn't purchased for $500, or $1,000 or $1,200, but for $1,500 of today's deflated currency. Let's just keep the record straight.

Drowning The Battery

It looked like a good way to insure himself against the usual troubles with his battery but the tourist who was adding water to the battery every day was making an error that is certain to cost him money in the long run. He was just overdoing it. Waterlogged batteries have become quite a problem as a result of being killed with the wrong kind of kindness. What happens is that if a battery will take water so often there is something wrong with it—a leaky cell, gassing, splashing or overcharging. When so much water is added, and electrolyte is leaking, the solution gradually becomes too weak to be effective.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"It is not generally known that the efficiency of your car's braking has a lot to do with how you handle the brakes. If you slam them on the chances are that you will get a measure of inequality regardless of their hydraulic action. Best plan when the brakes have not been used for several miles is to apply them moderately and then release them before applying them more firmly. This helps condition the lining. You must also take into consideration any swaying or jouncing of the car's body."

"The road surface must also be considered. With wheels banging into holes or actually off the ground four-wheel equalized braking is impossible. Try to get the car steadied down before braking."

Good In A Pinch

A friend of mine needed new brake lining for a trip but did not have time to have the brake drums turned down to remove a few ridges left by action of the old lining which, worn thin, let the shoes contact the drums in spots. His mechanic decided to get around the difficulty by chamfering along the edges of the lining. The job turned out surprisingly well. It would have been better to have used new drums or to have turned down the old ones if they had not previously been tried, but under the circumstances the idea proved practical.

Avoiding The Rush

One of the common errors of judgment that may prove to be quite a headache when you are touring over a holiday or week-end is to assume that because there isn't so much traffic on the road when you set forth you won't be troubled on your way home. Actually there is a wider spread of traffic at the start because not everyone can get away at the same time. This always gives a false impression as to the extent of travel at the time. But at the end of the holiday period the tendency is to wait until the last minute. That makes for the surprise congestion. Many say they will start home early, to avoid the crowd, but few do. Especially if they are lulled into thinking that there are not the usual number of people traveling.

The Year For Rust

Expect more rusting of the cooling system this summer if you have not taken the precaution to add rust inhibitor. The reasons for this are not too apparent yet logical enough when you stop to size up the situation.

You are driving faster and further. That means there is more air drawn into the cooling system, and more oxidation. This usually results in your having to add more water, picking it from here and there and thus using more hard water than may be your custom. Higher operating temperatures also add to the situation. Older cars run hotter.

This Is The Order

Have you ever come to a boulevard stop which is marked with a stop sign and also equipped with traffic lights in operation, and have you wondered whether you should stop even if the light says "go"? To readers who have written me about this I have called their attention to the fact that the lights have precedence. If they say "stop" you stop, and if they say "go" you go, regardless of what the posted signs say. Also if the intersection is manned by a live officer you obey his orders regardless of what the traffic lights say or the signs proclaim.

Are you puzzled because the car lacks its usual acceleration, its vaunted get-up-and-go? If so, here are some of the things you should check into:

There may be a clogged or pinched tail pipe. Modern mufflers do not clog as they are of the straight-through type. Any back pressure will slow down the motor.

There may be a dragging brake shoe. Weak brake shoe return springs will do it.

Or there may be slippage of the clutch. Test this by engaging the clutch slowly with the brakes set, the car in low gear and the engine accelerated. The engine should stall immediately if the clutch is all right.

What's On Your Mind?

Q. The windshield wipers on my car are very slow. Can't get them going faster than 24 swings per minute. The hosing isn't leaky. G.M.T.

A. Remove and clean the fitting on the intake manifold. It may be clogged. See that the wiper blades do not press too heavily against the glass.

Q. Will carelessness in removing a rear wheel cause a broken wheel bearing? In doing brake work a mechanic struck the axle end with a large hammer. Wm.K.G.

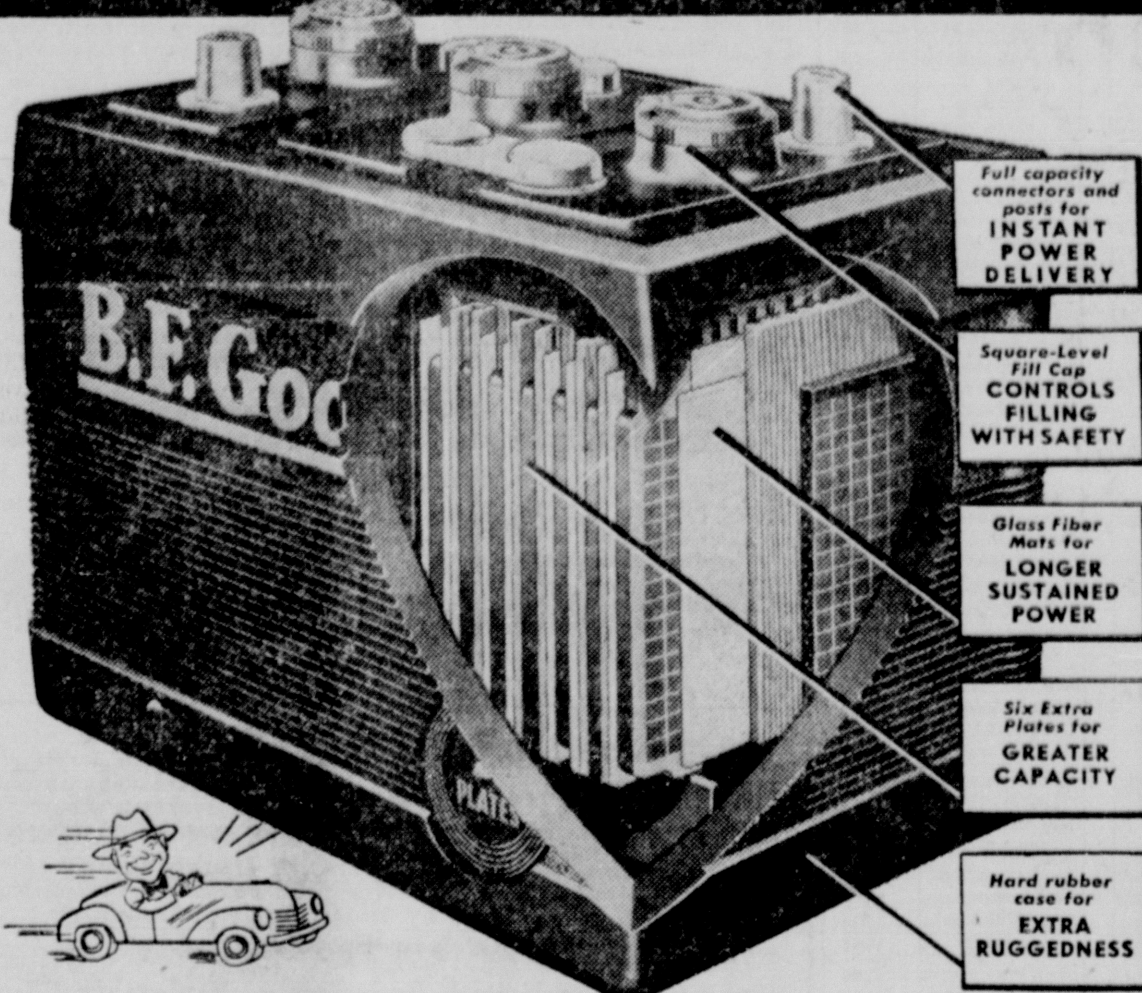

A. This isn't good practice. If a bearing is dry and a little on the old side it is quite likely to be damaged. However, we should bear in mind that the bearing probably was coming to the end of its usefulness anyway.

Q. What would cause the dome light to be dim? The lamp itself is of sufficient candlepower rating. This has developed lately. K.W.R.

A. There may be a loose or a corroded connection in the dome light circuit. Also I would check the battery as it may be weak. Often the dome light is a good hint that the generator isn't delivering enough current for the car's requirements. (Please Turn to Page 7)

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS WILL BE HELD FOR 1,719

Harrisburg, Aug. 23 (AP) — State civil service examinations on September 20 will establish eligibility lists for 1,719 clerkships to be filled permanently under the state's new civil service law.

The Civil Service Commission announced that is the number of jobs now held on a temporary basis by persons appointed to them since permanent civil service was suspended in 1943 for the duration of World War II to give veterans an equal chance to qualify for the places.

The commission previously announced applications must be filed here on or before September 2 to be eligible for the tests September 20 in Allentown, Erie, Harrisburg, Johnstown, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Scranton and Williamsport. Reporting that 166 positions for junior clerks, paying $1,428 to $1,596 a year, and for supervisory clerks, paying $2,838 to $3,192, must be filled by initial appointments, the state Department of Public Assistance noted "a well qualified staff depends on an ample supply of qualified persons from whom selection is to be made for appointment."

Written Examinations
"Persons who have been appointed on a war-duration basis have no assurance that they will be sufficiently high on the eligible lists to be appointed on a regular civil service basis," Secretary Frank A. Robbins added. "Moreover, they must compete for appointment with persons who have never held civil service positions."

He added all candidates will be evaluated on the results of written examinations and their previous experience, whether gained in private employment or as provisional employees.

The Civil Service Commission reported that in addition to the 166 public assistance clerkships, the places to be filled in other departments under civil service included: Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation, including Pennsylvania State Employment Service, 1,535.

State Health Department, 74; Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, approximately 75; Bureau of Rehabilitation, Labor and Industry Department, 23; Civil Service Commission, 11; and State Council for the Blind, one.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)
Batting, Ted Williams, Red Sox—Got six hits in seven times at bat in double header with the White Sox to take over the American league batting leadership with a mark of 338.

Pitching, Bob Feller, Indians—Limited the Yankees to four hits and struck out five in pitching the Indians to a 6-1 victory for a sweep of a double header.

KILLED IN BLAST

Kane, Pa., Aug. 23 (AP)—Explosion of a small auxiliary steam drum in the basement of his cleaning shop resulted in the death of Samuel Kanovsky, 38, in Kane Community hospital. Fire Chief Patsy Marasco said the blast, of unknown origin,

Lewistown Man Killed Hunting

Bellefonte, Pa., Aug. 23 (AP)—Marlow Wierick, 23, Lewistown, was shot and killed Wednesday while hunting groundhogs. District Attorney E. L. Willard said the man's brother-in-law and hunting companion, Michael J. Schreiber, 33, Burnham, was being held for a coroner's inquest.

Willard said that Schreiber reported the shooting was accidental while the two men were hunting groundhogs on a farm of the Pennsylvania State college, near here.

YANKEES NOT WORRIED OVER FOREIGN MART

By SIGRID ARNE

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—Washington economists are not too disturbed over the possibility that the British, Canadians and Australians may have to cut their buying of American goods.

Here are the figures which are important:

1. Together, the United Kingdom, Canada, and Australia, bought $1,767,000,000 worth of American goods the first half of this year.
2. In the same period we exported, all told, goods worth $7,552,000,000.
3. Our national income is now at the rate of $193 billions, the Department of Commerce estimates.
4. It is unlikely the three parts of the British Commonwealth would cut their buying by more than half. They sell enough here to cover half of what they are buying.

Can Stand Loss

That might mean the U. S. could lose about a billion in exports the next half year. But that would be only a seventh of our exports in terms of the last six months, and a mere drop in the bucket when stacked up against our $193 billion national income.

The flurry over a cut in Commonwealth buying here stems from the fact that the British and Canadians, particularly, are short of American dollars. Both have been buying here twice as much as they sell.

There is no certainty where the possible drop in exports will hit here. But Britain has given an indication that it will be in the luxury field. They have already cut imports of tobacco and films.

Canada and Australia have made no announcements yet. But government economists guess the cut will come on autos, refrigerators, washing machines, radios, cosmetics, vacuum cleaners, and perhaps, some oil.

Britain is also likely to cut in purchases of meat, canned fruits, powdered milk, and dried eggs.

Results Here

Economists say that could mean two things here:

1. More American products would have to be sold at home, and the prices on those might drop a little which would be a boon to the American consumer.
2. Some factories might cut production, and lay off hands. But it would scarcely mean unemployment, since there are still plenty of jobs for a man who doesn't mind a shift.

Certain American products seem to face no particular worry. Canada's industry can't operate well without American iron and coal. Britain needs our grain, raw cotton and some machinery. Australia will probably maintain some buying of American textiles, processed

SCOFFS BOMB IN BIG BLAST

Philadelphia, Aug. 23 (AP) — Fire Marshal George Gallagher discounted today the possibility that a bomb was responsible for an explosion that shook City Hall.

The blast shattered windows and a row of lockers in the Detective Bureau's headquarters on the first floor of the building, ripped down steel, autos and oil.

One Washington economist, associated with big American interests, said there is a major, long-time worry. The rest of the world through necessity could set up a trading system which would leave us out for two reasons: we don't buy enough foreign goods, and our prices are too high.

partitions, overturned filing cabinets, and strewn the floor of the Detective Bureau with records and rogues' gallery pictures.

Five persons were injured, none seriously.

East Berlin

East Berlin—Donald E. Danner, 14, only son of the Rev. and Mrs. J. Monroe Danner, who sustained a fractured ankle in June, has now had his cast removed and can walk without artificial aid. Donald will enter the local high school as a freshman in September.

A new cement pavement has been laid at the square between the George W. Moul food market and the home of Dr. Leon Roos and family, also owned by the Moulis.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sanders have returned home after spending several weeks in Baltimore to attend summer classes. Mr. and Mrs. Sanders are teachers at the borough schools.

Becky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Hoffman, York, has been visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Hoffman, Sr., who have also been entertaining their youngest son, Harold E. "Jimmy" Hoffman, who served for some time in the U. S. Marine service.

Mrs. Bertha Wolf Kerchner, York, who had been seriously ill at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Philip W. Hodgson, Jr., and family, near Red Run church, is reported much improved. Mrs. Kerchner has a heart ailment which caused her to remain in an unconscious condition in an oxygen tent for some time earlier this summer.

Aaron O. Jacobs, York, formerly of town, was a visitor of local relatives over the week-end.

Mrs. Coit E. Eisenhart, who has been in poor health for most of the summer and confined to bed for a part of July, is improved but remains under the care of a specialist.

She is able to attend to her household duties. Mrs. Eisenhart received a severe shock during the past week when a kerosene cook stove which she was using in her out-kitchen blazed up in such a way that she was unable to lower the wick. She called to a neighbor who got the blaze under control in time to avert a fire in the room which was damaged by smoke.

Mrs. Harry Sarbaugh, Hanover, accompanied a party of Hanover friends to visit here during the past week. Mrs. Sarbaugh is the former Miss Mary E. Walter, a daughter of Simon Walter, late of this place.

William S. Elgin, younger son of Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Elgin, who was graduated from Penn State college this year, has opened a real estate office at his home premises.

Mrs. Maggie Burgard, who has been spending some time in York at the home of Mrs. W. L. Long, visited her home here during the week-end.

Mrs. Lyle Creekmore and Miss E. Patricia Boozer, who left in June to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace H. Boozer, West Palm Beach, Fla., and later spent several weeks in New York where they were joined by their parents and Mrs. Creekmore's husband, have returned to their home here accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Boozer, who will spend some time with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Creekmore are preparing to move to their newly purchased home in North Merriek, L. I. N. Y., where Miss Boozer will live with them. She and Mrs. Creekmore plan to further their preparation for operative careers at the Julliard School of Music, New York city, and Mr. Creekmore, who has been studying for the past year as a G. I. at Thompson's Business college, York, will further his studies at New York university. Miss Boozer, who was confined to bed by illness shortly after her return here, has recovered.

Mrs. Annette Roberts March, Stony Brook, formerly of this place, visited relatives and friends here during the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Mulligan, Jr., New Cumberland, who were married in June, were recent guests

Orrtanna

Orrtanna—Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Corbin and children, Diane and Douglas, of Cincinnati, Ohio, are spending a ten-day vacation with Mrs. Corbin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Naugle, and other relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Johnson and son Charles and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Messenger, of East Long Meadow, Mass., are also spending the week with the Naugles' parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger McClellan and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Neagle are vacationing at Niagara Falls and Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kint and family, of Laurel, Nebraska, are spending the week with Mr. Kint's sister, Mrs. Mary Shuyler and family.

Miss Alice Tressler is spending a vacation with relatives in Hagerstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilhide of Hagerstown, spent the week-end with Mrs. Wilhide's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Peppie. They were accompanied home by Miss Alice Weaver who spent ten days with the Peppies, her brother-in-law and sister.

Mrs. Galen Brendle, of York, visited recently with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Plank.

Mrs. Harry Ross has returned to her home at Sparrows Point, Md., after a visit with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Wetzel, Orrtanna R. D., and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Baltzley, Gettysburg R. D.

Miss Leila Mae Sites, of Emmitsburg, is spending sometime with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wetzel, and family.

Lynn Delancy, of Shippensburg, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fissel.

Mrs. Hannah Biggs and daughter, Miss Jean Biggs, and Miss Janice Mellinger are spending the week at Tyrone.

Mrs. S. C. Donaldson is spending the week with friends in Delaware and New Jersey.

Seaman First Class J. Leo Gallagher, A. M. M. of Jacksonville, Fla., is spending two weeks' leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Gallagher.

The following Sunday school officers were elected on Sunday at the Mt. Carmel United Brethren church: Superintendent, Ira Naugle; assistant, Clyde Baker; secretary, Meri Shindeldecker; assistant, Genevieve Wetzel; treasurer, Paul Wetzel. Church trustees elected were E. J. Naugle, Charles Shindeldecker, Clyde Metz and Paul Wetzel. Due to a new ruling of the church, other officers for minor offices will be elected by the above named for Sunday school and church duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Wetzel, of Solley, Md., spent the week-end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Wetzel.

Mrs. Wilmer Wetzel and daughter, Irene, and son, Arthur, and Mrs. S. C. Donaldson spent Sunday in York as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Blair Biesecker.

REDS REFUSE U.S. REVIEW OF DEATH SENTENCE

Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 23 (AP)—Russia's representative on the Allied Control Commission Friday rejected the United States demand for a review of the death sentence of Nikola Petkov, top-ranking anti-Communist leader.

Petkov was sentenced last Saturday to die as a conspirator against the Communist-dominated Fatherland Front government.

The United States denounced his arrest and trial, and four days ago the United States and Britain sought a review of the sentence.

The rejection was announced by Lt. Gen. Alexander Cherepanov, Soviet member and acting deputy chairman of the commission.

Petkov, leader of the Agrarian party and one of the signers of the Bulgarian armistice, also was given a 15-year prison sentence and fined on conviction of responsibility for the former outspoken leader of the opposition in Parliament might have repercussions on peace and order in this country (Bulgaria) for which the Allied Control Commission has a specific responsibility."

Replying to the American letter, Cherepanov wrote:

"I do not consider it possible for the Allied Control Commission to interfere in any way in the affair of Nikola Petkov, inasmuch as it is purely an internal Bulgarian matter. "There is, therefore, no reason why the Allied Control Commission should take upon itself the problem of reviewing Nikola Petkov's case."

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS WILL BE HELD FOR 1,719

Harrisburg, Aug. 23 (AP)—State civil service examinations on September 20 will establish eligibility lists for 1,719 clerkships to be filled permanently under the state's new civil service law.

The Civil Service Commission announced that the number of jobs now held on a temporary basis by persons appointed to them since permanent civil service was suspended in 1943 for the duration of World War II to give veterans an equal chance to qualify for the places.

The commission previously announced applications must be filed here on or before September 2 to be eligible for the tests September 20 in Allentown, Erie, Harrisburg, Johnstown, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Scranton and Williamsport.

Reporting that 166 positions for junior clerks, paying $1,428 to $1,596 a year, and for supervisory clerks, paying $2,838 to $3,192, must be filled by initial appointments, the state Department of Public Assistance noted "a well qualified staff depends on an ample supply of qualified persons from whom selection is to be made for appointment."

Written Examinations
"Persons who have been appointed on a war-duration basis have no assurance that they will be sufficiently high on the eligible lists to be appointed on a regular civil service basis," Secretary Frank A. Robbins added. "Moreover, they must compete for appointment with persons who have never held civil service positions."

He added all candidates will be evaluated on the results of written examinations and their previous experience, whether gained in private employment or as provisional employees.

The Civil Service Commission reported that in addition to the 166 public assistance clerkships, the places to be filled in other departments under civil service included: Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation, including Pennsylvania State Employment Service, 1,535.

State Health Department, 74; Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, approximately 75; Bureau of Rehabilitation, Labor and Industry Department, 23; Civil Service Commission, 11; and State Council for the Blind, one.

Lewistown Man Killed Hunting

(By The Associated Press)

Bellefonte, Pa., Aug. 23 (AP)—Marlow Wierick, 23, Lewistown, was shot and killed Wednesday while hunting groundhogs. District Attorney E. L. Willard said the man's brother-in-law and hunting companion, Michael J. Schreiber, 33, Burnham, was being held for a coroner's inquest.

Willard said that Schreiber reported the shooting was accidental while the two men were hunting groundhogs on a farm of the Pennsylvania State college, near here.

YANKEES NOT WORRIED OVER FOREIGN MART

By SIGRID ARNE

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—Washington economists are not too disturbed over the possibility that the British, Canadians and Australians may have to cut their buying of American goods.

Here are the figures which are important:

1. Together, the United Kingdom, Canada, and Australia, bought $1,767,000,000 worth of American goods the first half of this year.

2. In the same period we exported, all told, goods worth $7,552,000,000.

3. Our national income is now at the rate of $193 billions, the Department of Commerce estimates.

4. It is unlikely the three parts of the British Commonwealth would cut their buying by more than half. They sell enough here to cover half of what they are buying.

Can Stand Loss
That might mean the U. S. could lose about a billion in exports the next half year. But that would be only a seventh of our exports in terms of the last six months, and a mere drop in the bucket when stacked up against our $193 billion national income.

The flurry over a cut in Commonwealth buying here stems from the fact that the British and Canadians, particularly, are short of American dollars. Both have been buying here twice as much as they sell.

There is no certainty where the possible drop in exports will hit here. But Britain has given an indication that it will be in the luxury field. They have already cut imports of tobacco and films.

Canada and Australia have made no announcements yet. But government economists guess the cut will come on autos, refrigerators, washing machines, radios, cosmetics, vacuum cleaners, and perhaps, some oil.

Britain is also likely to cut in purchases of meat, canned fruits, powdered milk, and dried eggs.

Results Here
Economists say that could mean two things here:

1. More American products would have to be sold at home, and the prices on those might drop a little which would be a boon to the American consumer.

2. Some factories might cut production, and lay off hands. But it would scarcely mean unemployment, since there are still plenty of jobs for a man who doesn't mind a shift.

Certain American products seem to face no particular worry. Canada's industry can't operate well without American iron and coal. Britain needs our grain, raw cotton and some machinery. Australia will probably maintain some buying of American textiles, processed

Philadelphia, Aug. 23 (AP)—Fire Marshal George Gallagher discounted today the possibility that a bomb was responsible for an explosion that shook City Hall.

The blast shattered windows and a row of lockers in the Detective Bureau's headquarters on the first floor of the building, ripped down steel, autos and oil.

One Washington economist, associated with big American interests, said there is a major, long-time worry. The rest of the world through necessity could set up a trading system which would leave us out for two reasons: we don't buy enough foreign goods, and our prices are too high.

Four o'clocks bloom in the late afternoon and through the night, but close when the sun comes out. The flower lasts but one day.

partitions, overturned filing cabinets, and strewn the floor of the Detective Bureau with records and rogues' gallery pictures.

Five persons were injured, none seriously.

MONDAY, TUESDAY
Abbott and Costello's 19th comedy picture, "Buck Privates Come Home," opens Monday at the Majestic Theatre.

As a natural follow-up to their first starring picture, "Buck Privates" which was made in 1941, "Buck Privates Come Home," deals with the troubles of ex-soldiers trying to adjust themselves to civilian life. The team displays many fresh comedy antics which keeps the fun at a high level.

The story picks up as Bud and Lou are leaving France after helping in a negative sort of way, to win the war. As they are about to board ship, Lou gives in to the urge to smuggle aboard their little war-orphan friend, Beverly Simmons, whose discovery en route to America plunges the lot into hot water.

WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY
Attractive Elizabeth Taylor takes a step toward growing up in her newest M-G-M picture, "Cynthia," arresting drama of an adolescent girl's first love affair, which opens Wednesday at the Majestic theatre.

As a girl whose over-zealous parents and domineering uncle deprive her of normal relationships of small town life, Cynthia doesn't stand much chance at snaring her high school Lothario until she takes matters into her own hands. When she does, a bombshell explodes, involving her frustrated father, her unhappy mother and other members of an extremely difficult family. But before she's finished with her one-girl rebellion, Cynthia manages to get her first kiss, wins her father a better job, simplifies life for her mother and kicks her blundering uncle out of the house!

that there is "nothing new under the sun" is Warner Bros.' new film drama, "Possessed," which opens at the Majestic theatre Friday. Boasting an outstanding cast headed by co-stars Joan Crawford and Van Heflin, the film presents a startling departure from the routine treatment ordinarily accorded the theme of unrequited love and, incidentally, provides Joan Crawford with one of her most challenging roles to date.

Based on a story by Rita Weiman, the Silvia Richards-Ronald MacDougall screenplay details the emotional pitfalls encountered by Louise Howell (Joan Crawford) in her pitifully frustrated search for love.
